Bali is one of the most popular destinations with fashion bloggers. So, we've found the resorts fashion bloggers love the most to ensure you have a super stylish holiday.

SAHANA VILLA - TUULA VINTAGE

Blogger Tuula Vintage believes that not all who wander are lost, and she clearly stayed at Sahana Villa for a reason. It's luxury accommodation at affordable prices.

Expressing her love for the resort she wrote on her blog, "I personally adored the beautiful staff, and spent a lot of time talking with them while they spoiled us with incredible Indonesian recipes."

Bali is one of the most popular destinations with fashion bloggers and it doesn't take any special calculations to figure out why. It's a beautiful cultural city with golden beaches, historic temples, and crystal clear water perfect for posing (and swimming) in. If you're after a stylish vacation that will consistently stun with Instagrammable backdrops, you need to pack your bikini immediately.

Of course, choosing a resort to stay in a city you've never travelled to before can be a gamble. So, we're following in the footsteps of fashion bloggers who have showcased the most luxurious resorts across their blogs and Instagram feeds. We've gathered up a gallery of eleven resorts in Bali fashion bloggers love, serene patches of paradise within the heart of the city but removed from the exhausting traffic and crowds.
